

Young Stitchers Competition 2010

(the children's section of South West Quilters)

The adults are busy having fun making quilts for a big exhibition at the Westpoint Arena near to Exeter which happens from 26 to 28 March 2010. So here's your chance to get in on the fun and make a smaller quilt for lots of people to see and to try and win a prize.

So, what do you need to do?

You need to make a quilt measuring 30cm by 30cm, no bigger, no smaller with a theme of

The Blooming West Country

So we're thinking flowers, flowers, flowers and lots and lots of bright colours

There are two age categories for you to enter with prizes to be won:

10 years old and under

11 to 16 years old

Your quilt will be put into the Exhibition at Westpoint from 26 to 28 March 2010 for lots of visitors to see, your quilt will be returned to you after the Exhibition.

So you want to enter, what next? You need to get an adult to complete and return the slip below to the Co-ordinator before the end of January 2010 who will send you an entry form to send in with your quilt. You need to get your quilt finished and sent to the Co-ordinator by 10 March 2010 with the entry form. Any questions? Please contact Tracey Davies, Young Stitchers Co-Ordinator on 01392 662874 or at the address at the bottom.
